

ANNOTATION

work program of the discipline propaedeutics of internal diseases research work

Speciality	05/31/01 General medicine
Number of credits	In accordance with the RUP
Interim certification form	In accordance with the RUP

Purpose of the study: consolidation and deepening of theoretical knowledge acquired during the study of the academic discipline of the main educational program (propaedeutics of internal diseases) and the development of students' skills in independent scientific work related to solving professional and scientific-practical problems

Summary of the discipline

Section 1. General questions. Epidemiology of diseases of internal organs. Human microbiome. Ethical considerations when performing scientific research. Evolution of clinical methods for examining patients. Bioethics. Development of the domestic therapeutic school. Social factors in the development of medical science. Methodology for constructing a diagnosis

Section 2. Rare diseases of the heart and blood vessels

Section 3. Rare diseases of the lungs and respiratory system

Section 4. Rare endocrine and metabolic diseases and syndrome

Section 5. Rare diseases of connective tissue and musculoskeletal system

Section 6. Rare diseases of the kidneys and urinary system

Section 7. Rare diseases of the digestive system

Section 8. Rare blood diseases

Section 9. The rarest diseases

Section 10. Aspects of digitalization in healthcare.