

ANNOTATION
work program of the discipline

"Functional diagnostic methods in cardiology"

Speciality	05/31/01 General medicine
Number of credits	In accordance with the RUP
Interim certification form (test)	In accordance with the RUP

1. The purpose of studying the discipline

The goal of the discipline is to develop in-depth understanding of modern instrumental methods for studying the cardiovascular system.

2. Briefly with maintaining discipline

Tasks that are being implemented: master the methods and techniques of traditional electrocardiography in standard and additional leads; study the basic principles of clinical analysis of ECG; study the most important criteria for diagnosing electrocardiographic syndromes and heart diseases; master the skills of performing stress tests and transesophageal cardiac pacing and be able to interpret the results obtained; master the skills of setting and interpreting ABPM results; know the indications for coronary angiography and myocardial scintigraphy, the methodology for conducting and interpreting the results obtained.